

The gingerbread man

Who are you? What you've been told?

What have you been told about yourself?

Write or draw labels with all the traits that others have told you about you.

What have you been discovered about yourself?

Write or draw labels with all the features you know about you. Look at what you feel and what you have done. Be as objective as you can.

